Society

Introduction

The Swiss Chemical Society Fall Meeting is the largest, annual scientific congress organized in Switzerland. In 2013, more than 550 scientific contributions were presented in nine parallel sessions at the EPF in Lausanne and for the 2014 event we expect to exceed this numbers again.

The event offers a unique opportunity for graduate students, post-doctoral fellows and senior scientists from both, academic and industry, to share and exchange the results of their research. It also allows chemists to exchange ideas, often creating the seeds for new projects and collaborations.

Finances

The exchange of scientific know how is crucial for the success of chemical sciences in Switzerland. Therefore we like to keep the participation free of charge for SCS members and at a low level for non-members. To ensure the necessary financial resources we are reliant on Sponsors and benefactors that contribute about 50% of the conference income.
