

Hugh Nakamura

Hugh NAKAMURA is currently an Assistant Professor of Chemistry at the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (HKUST) (2021, Sep.- present). He earned his PhD in Pharmaceutical Sciences from Kyoto University in 2017 under the supervision of Professor Yoshiji Takemoto. Following this, he completed a postdoctoral fellowship (2017-2021) at the Scripps Research Institute, mentored by Professor Phil S. Baran, where his research focused on scalable and efficient natural product synthesis and electrochemical reactions. Dr. Nakamura's honors include the 2024 Early Career Award from the Hong Kong Research Grants Council and multiple Asia Core Program Lectureships. His current research centers on the synthesis of non-canonical cyclic peptides.
